

A MYSTERIOUS LETTER

LETTER OF WARNING RECEIVED
BY BURGESS EICHOITZ.

Banking Institutions Put on Guards
—Vigilant Outlook For Suspicious Characters.

Gettysburg was greatly disturbed last week over two letters received by Burgess Eicholtz. The first letter was received on Monday of last week and was on paper of Hotel Normandie of Detroit, Mich. It was signed "Adolph G. Wilkes, Asst. Mgr. Pinkerton Detective Bureau." The letter told of a gang of crooks in the vicinity of Chambersburg who proposed to raid Gettysburg Oct. 29, the intention being to rob the post office, and county treasurer's office. It stated that four of the members of the gang which numbered seven men were Pinkerton men and were supplied with watchmen's whistles, the blowing of which will be the signal for your watchers to surround the bunch. Warning was given to use unlimited force but to kindly avoid hurting the men with the whistles who will be there to assist in capturing the gang.

Immediately upon receipt of the letter Burgess Eicholtz did two things, to warn our banks of its contents, and to send the letter to the Pinkertons at Philadelphia. On Thursday he had a letter from Pinkerton's National Detective Agency returning the Wilkes letter and saying they had no such person in their employ, do not know him and never heard of him.

The answer of the Pinkertons only intensified the mystery of the first letter. Was it a decoy to attract attention to Gettysburg while a raid was made in some other section or was it a warning intended for this community. The presence of a number of strangers in town last week, whose business was unknown added fuel to the situation.

Beginning with Monday night of last week additional guards went on duty at our three banking institutions, the post office and other points. Burgess Eicholtz believes it would be wise not to conclude that it is all a hoax, or that it is a decoy of a visitation at some other point but to maintain the guards for the present and in no way to relax vigilance. The advice of the Burgess is approved by many.

Property Sales.

R. R. Long has sold his property on Chambersburg street next door to City Hotel to John H. Sheads.

Mrs. Louisa A. Keay sold her farm of 30 acres near Littlestown at public sale to A. F. Hostetter of Hanover at $110 per acre.

Two Farms For Orphan's School.

Elder George W. Hoffman of St. James congregation, near Littlestown, offered two farms in this county containing 240 acres, 170 of which are in a good state of cultivation and 30 in timberland, to Potomac Synod for the establishment of an orphan's home. Dr. T. J. Barkley, Rev. A. S. Hartman and Elder J. W. Bond were appointed committee to whom offer was referred.

Acetylene Gas Plant.

Citizens of the smaller boroughs of the county where it seems hopeless to secure either electric lights or gas, have been turning to acetylene gas, gasoline and other similar lighting systems and are getting satisfactory results. J. E. C. Miller of New Oxford some time ago installed in his yard an acetylene gas plant carrying 75 lights. He put pipes through his residence and store property and has been getting a very satisfactory light. He recently sold his generator to Mr. Plymire, who will install it in his restaurant property. In its stead Mr. Miller is placing a large generator in his yard, capable of furnishing light to 200 burners and will have more than enough light for all his purposes.

HEAD ON COLLISION

With Result of Two Badly Broken Pilots.

Engine No. 313 and No. 7 had a dispute yesterday morning for the same pair of steel rails with the usual result. Engine No. 7 with two passenger cars occupied a siding east of Stratton street, being the train leaving here at 7:55 a. m. The usual night freights went through town and it is supposed the crew of last one before daylight forgot to shut the switch to siding on which the passenger stood. The freight from Hagerstown to York pulled by engine No. 313, about 4 o'clock a. m. started on its way. It went into the open siding and there was a head on collision between the two engines. The momentum of the train of freight cars prevented stopping of engine No. 313. The pilot of the two engines was smashed and that of the freight engine catching in the track tore it up at places, resulting in No. 313 being derailed and its pilot more damaged than the lighter passenger engine. No one was hurt. Wrecking crew came up from Hanover. A special was sent up to take place of the 7:55 train. The freight engine was gotten on track yesterday and both engines were sent to shops for repairs.

SAD ACCIDENT SHOCKS TOWN

NURSE LOSES LIFE TO SAVE
PATIENT FROM HARM.

Oil Stove Became a Mass of Flames in Refilling and Set Fire to Nurses Clothing.

One of the saddest accidents and deaths ever happening in this place occurred on last Saturday morning. The distressing circumstances attending an awful burning wrung the hearts of this community. The victim was Mrs. Alma Hake, widow of G. H. Hake and a daughter of Leander Hummelbaugh of this place. The recent life of Mrs. Hake had been a sad one. Shortly after her marriage several years ago her husband was taken ill with typhoid fever and died. The young wife returned to her father's home, becoming a nurse and endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact by a faithfulness and kindness, winning her many friends, who admired and esteemed her.

Last Thursday a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rogers, living with latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mitten on East Middle street, Mrs. Hake being the nurse. Early Saturday morning the nurse discovered the oil in the stove low and proceeded to fill it. The light had not altogether died out when the cap was taken off the stove to refill it. Instantly it became a mass of flames.

The faithful nurse's first thought was of her patient, and the danger to her and that she must save her. She picked up the blazing stove and rushed down stairs with it. By the time she reached the foot of the stairs her clothes were in a blaze. Her screams for help were heard by Mrs. E. P. Sachs and John McIlhenny who rushed to her assistance. But help came too late for much of her clothing had been burned from her. An overcoat and other clothing was thrown over her and flames put out.

A fire alarm was turned in immediately by neighbors which brought the firemen hastily to the scene. The firemen carried Mrs. Rogers and child to a neighbor's house as also Mrs. Hake. There was a slight fire at the foot of the stairs which they had extinguished.

Dr. H. M. Hartman was summoned. Mrs. Hake was found terribly burned. She was wrapped in cotton and removed to her home on Washington street. Dr. Dickson was called in consultation. Everything was done to allay her suffering. Pains were entertained from the start that flames had been inhaled. Mrs. Hake recovered consciousness before the end and bore her suffering with remarkable fortitude and patience, death ensuing about two o'clock in the afternoon.

The funeral was held on Monday morning, Rev. C. E. Snook, assisted by Rev. S. L. Rice, conducting the services, Mrs. Hake being a devoted member of the C. B. Church. Interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

Lecture. Rev. J. T. Huddle, of Washington, D. C., the well known humorist, will lecture on "Riley and His Rhymes" on Thursday evening of this week at Bruce Chapel. Rev. Huddle comes to Gettysburg very highly recommended and his lecture undoubtedly will be a rare treat to all lovers of wit and humor. Owing to the fact that a large number of Christian Endeavorers desiring to hear Rev. Huddle would not have had an opportunity of doing so on account of the Christian Endeavor convention being held the latter part of the week, date has been changed to Thursday instead of Friday as formerly announced. The college orchestra will also add to the enjoyableness of the occasion by the rendition of several of their new pieces. Chart opens today at Buehler's Drug Store, admission 25 and 35 cents.

A SOLDIER'S TEMPLE. Gettysburg Would Vote for a Memorial Structure.

The Gettysburg Battlefield Memorial Association appointed under the Act of Assembly of 1901 has organized. The citizens composing this Association are Col. John M. Vanderslice of Philadelphia, General D. McM. Gregg of Reading, Col. R. B. Ricketts of Wilkes-Barre, Hon. Levi G. McCauley of West Chester, Hon. H. H. Cummings of Tidoute, Hon. J. C. Stine-man of South Fork, Hon. M. A. Garvin of Gettysburg, Col. John P. Nicholson of Philadelphia and Hon. Chas. H. Veil of Wellsboro. At the recent organization Gen. Gregg was elected Chairman and Mr. Garvin Secretary.

The appropriation originally made was $250,000 and reduced by the pruning knife of the Governor to $150,000. The Act provides for the erection of a monument or memorial structure on a suitable site on the Gettysburg Battlefield.

One of the questions the association may have to solve, is whether they shall design for the erection of a monument or memorial structure to cost $150,000 or $250,000. The act of assembly as passed by the Legislature of Pennsylvania, provided that the total cost of the monument or memorial structure shall not exceed $250,000. The Governor simply disapproved of $100,000 of the appropriation, because of insufficient state revenue. The Governor has the power to veto any part of an appropriation, but as in the present case, while the money would not be appropriated, it would not effect the will of the Legislature and the money shall go into a monument or memorial structure.

Another question, and one likely to be settled at an early date, is the site for the monument or memorial structure. This question is to be decided by the Association. If the wishes of the people of Gettysburg were to be consulted we believe they would be unanimous for the location in the borough of Gettysburg. The site is to be on the Gettysburg battlefield. If there is one spot on the battlefield without any monument it is the built up portion of the town, the very heart of the battlefield. The line of battle of the Confederates was along and upon Middle street. The houses on Baltimore Hill were occupied by the sharpshooters. The advance line of the Union sharpshooters was in houses on southern edge of town. What more appropriate spot for a site than in the borough, at a point to easily meet the eye of every visitor.

Another question is whether it shall be a monument or memorial structure. Here again Gettysburg would be unanimous for a memorial structure, a beautiful chaste $250,000 or $150,000 Soldier's Temple, in which to preserve battle archives, memorials mementos, battle flags, A Temple, returning veterans can come to as their own and gather in to hold their camp fires. A temple in which to preserve that which commemorates the services of the soldiers of Pennsylvania in the battle of Gettysburg.

A RARE OPPORTUNITY

...To...
Those Who Have Defective Vision
 and who have heretofore been Unable to Obtain Proper Glasses
TO DO SO NOW.

THE HAPPY RESULTS FROM CORRECTLY FITTED GLASSES A GRATEFUL SURPRISE TO PERSONS WHO HAVE NOT KNOWN THE ADVANTAGE OF GOOD GLASSES

THE danger of neglecting this seemingly simple warning cannot be overestimated. Strong, healthy eyes do not tire before any other organ. If the eyes complain, ever so little, you should safeguard yourself against a real breakdown of the eyesight.

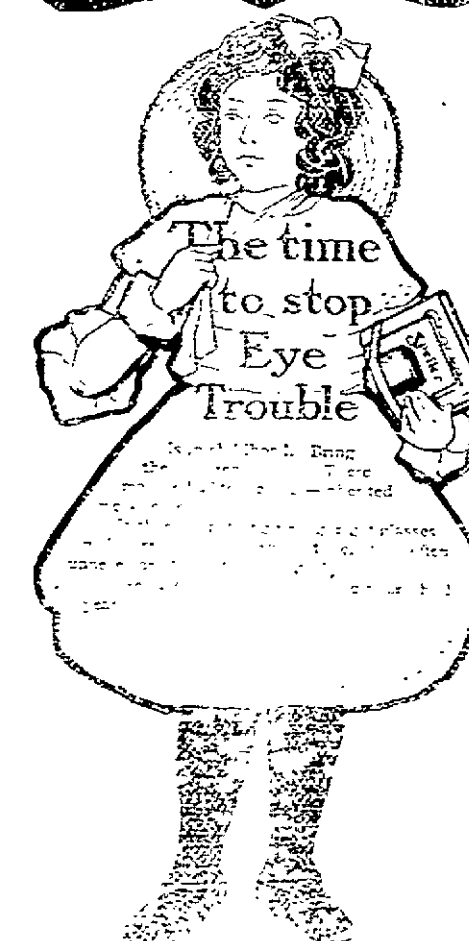

Headaches or any irregularity of vision call for instant attention.

Come to us for examination. We'll give you the proper glasses if you need them. If you don't, it will cost you nothing.

Squinting

Looks particularly unlovely when children do it. Don't imagine that it is a habit you can break them of, for it is simply an outward sign of defective eyesight. The child must look that way to see right. The only way to cure squinting is to cure the defect in the eyesight—the right glasses will do that. No charge for examination.

The time to stop Eye Trouble

Don't think that because you are young and healthy you can neglect your eyes. If you do, you will find that the time to stop eye trouble has come. The only way to stop eye trouble is to get the right glasses. No charge for examination.

From School Age to Old Age

You may need glasses. Don't think that because you are young and healthy you can neglect your eyes. If you do, you will find that the time to stop eye trouble has come. The only way to stop eye trouble is to get the right glasses. No charge for examination.

A FEW GETTYSBURG TESTIMONIALS

Gettysburg, Pa., Dec. 15, 1904.

Dr. G. E. Jacobs:

I have used the glasses you furnished me with much advantage—I have been in the hands of oculists and specialists for several years without advantage. You gave me a single sitting and a thorough examination, and furnished me with spectacles that gave me much relief. Your equipment seems to be perfect. I furnish this recital with much pleasure.

Respectfully,

J. W. C. O'NEAL, M. D.

Pennsylvania College,

Gettysburg, Pa., Jan. 10, 1905.

Dr. G. E. Jacobs,

Gettysburg, Pa.

Dear Sir:—The glasses you furnished me some months since are in every way satisfactory. Your method of examination impressed me most favorably and satisfied me that you knew what you were about. The proof of this is in the excellent glasses themselves.

Very truly yours,

P. M. BIKLE, Ph. D.

Gettysburg, Pa., Dec. 14, 1904.

Dr. G. E. Jacobs,

Gettysburg, Pa.

Dear Sir:—Ever since you fitted me with glasses I have felt like writing you a special testimonial, as you have done for me what no other oculist or optician has done, and I have consulted many. I naturally feel grateful. My eyes are growing stronger all the time. I use them constantly during the day in my own work, and at night I can read until bed-time if necessary, something that I have not been able to do for years.

Besides I am rid of the unsightly patch I had been compelled to wear over my left eye, which was always a source of great annoyance to me.

I have been up against so much humbug in this matter, in times past, that it will give me the greatest pleasure to recommend your work to any one who may have need of it.

Yours truly,

JOHN A. COX,

Agent P. & R. R. R.

Gettysburg, Pa., Dec. 25, 1904.

Dear Dr. Jacobs:

It gives me pleasure to say that the glasses you fitted me with last July have given me entire satisfaction. I have had very little headache since wearing them. I have full confidence in your ability to correct defects of vision and consider you an expert in your profession.

Very truly yours,

H. C. PICKING.

Gettysburg, Pa., December 16, 1904.

Dear Sir:—The lenses you fitted for me are very satisfactory and I have taken pleasure in recommending your work to my friends.

MRS. DR. M. VALENZUELA.

Gettysburg, Pa., Dec. 17, 1904.

Dr. G. E. Jacobs,

Dear Sir:—After trying three oculists of well known reputation, I take pleasure in saying that the glasses you fitted for me in the summer are the most satisfactory I have ever worn. It is a pleasure to wear them.

The new glasses you furnished my daughter give equal satisfaction.

Yours truly,

THOS. J. STABLE.

Theological Seminary,

Gettysburg, Pa., Dec. 17, 1904.

Dear Dr. Jacobs:

I do not hesitate to tell any of my classmates in the Seminary that the glasses I got from you three months ago are giving me perfect satisfaction. Indeed, I can say more: They are better than any I have had since I began to wear glasses eleven years ago.

Respectfully yours,

E. A. HIGGINS.

Lewisburg, Pa., Dec. 5, 1904.

My Dear Dr. Jacobs,

The glasses come promptly and I am much pleased with them. The lenses are so satisfactory that I think I will have you fit me in my steel, frames and also in my other eye glasses.

Very truly yours,

M. L. DINEEN,

Professor in Bucknell University.

Gettysburg, Pa., December 15, 1904.

G. E. Jacobs, Ref. D.

Dear Sir:—It gives me great pleasure to say that the lenses which you have fitted for my eyes give great comfort. Thank you for the care and patience given to troublesome eyes.

Yours respectfully,

ALICE K. BAUGHER.

Gettysburg, Pa., Dec. 26, 1904.

Dr. G. E. Jacobs,

Although I have a pair of peculiar eyes, the one being near-sighted and the other far-sighted, and both astigmatic, the bi-focal glasses you fitted for me are entirely satisfactory.

Your Friend,

AMOS ECKERT.

Gettysburg, Pa., Dec. 29, 1904.

Dr. G. E. Jacobs,

Dear Doctor:—Since you examined and fitted my eyes with glasses I find that the headache with which I was troubled has greatly lessened, and the intense pain directly in the eyeball has left me entirely. I am pleased to say that the glasses are entirely satisfactory.

Respectfully,

CHAS. M. M. DRUM.

Gettysburg, Pa., Dec. 17, 1904.

Dr. G. E. Jacobs,

Dear Sir:—I am glad to recommend you. My eyes have given me constant trouble for years, in fact I was nearly blind, but you gave me the relief I despaired of. I can now see perfectly.

Yours respectfully,

MRS. E. GOWEN.

Gettysburg, Pa., December 14, 1904.

Dr. G. E. Jacobs,

Gettysburg, Pa.

Dear Sir:—The glasses with which you fitted me give entire satisfaction. I have sent you a number of my friends to whom you have also given satisfaction.

Yours respectfully,

MRS. DR. C. ECKENROBE.

Tillic, Adams County, Pa., Dec. 17, 1904.

Dr. G. E. Jacobs,

Dear Sir:—Before you fitted my eyes with glasses I had always been nearly blind. My distant vision was a blur, and there was a great strain on my eyes when I tried to read or sew. Eighteen years ago I had my eyes examined and treated by a famous oculist in Baltimore but the glasses he prescribed were never satisfactory. Many times since I have gotten glasses from so-called opticians but only received temporary relief until I had them thoroughly examined by you.

You fitted me with bi-focal lenses and I found as you told me they bothered me at first, but in a short time I became used to them and they are now perfectly satisfactory in every respect. I would not do without them for five times their cost. I will cheerfully recommend you to any one having defective eyesight.

Yours respectfully,

MRS. JOHN F. CURREN.

It gives me real pleasure to heartily commend Dr. G. E. Jacobs to all persons needing a competent and reliable optician. He fitted my eyes last October with bi-focal glasses which have relieved me of pain in my eyes and head. He also fitted me with a pair of "Shur-On" eye-glasses, which give ease and comfort, and I find them a perfect success.

I can confidently recommend his methods as safe and satisfactory.

Statesville, N. C.,

Jan. 24, 1905.

MRS. MAJ. W. M. ROBBINS.

Gettysburg, Pa., Dec. 21, 1904.

Dr. G. E. Jacobs:

I am very glad to say that my glasses are giving perfect satisfaction, and I gladly recommend you to others.

Respectfully,

ELIZABETH RUMMEL.

Gettysburg, Pa., Jan. 12, 1905.

Dr. G. E. Jacobs, Ref. D.

Dear Sir:—The bi-focal eye-glasses you fitted to my eyes last summer are entirely satisfactory. I wear them constantly, and besides the great comfort they give me in seeing both distant and near objects so clearly, the miserable headaches, from which I had suffered for years, have all disappeared. I have recommended you to quite a number of my friends, to whom you have also given the best of satisfaction.

Yours respectfully,

J. W. GAYLOR.

You Can't Exchange Your Eyes

Or have them made over again, and yet of all precious possessions the eyes are probably the most abused. They are used in all kinds of light, overstrained, overworked, neglected. Let us examine your eyes to see what they need before serious harm is done.

Is Reading an Effort?

Sound vision means ease for every one. If you are able to read without strain, you are able to do all the work of your life. If you are unable to read without strain, you are unable to do all the work of your life. If you are unable to read without strain, you are unable to do all the work of your life.

Neglect of nature's warnings will bring on serious eye trouble. Don't risk your sight. Come to us with the first symptoms. We'll tell you what the trouble is and give you the glasses to remedy it.

Children are called stupid

And dull by teachers and parents, oftentimes for no other reason than that their eyes are not as the eyes of other children. Perhaps they do not see as well as they should, cannot study long without pain and headache, and eventually, the much dreaded, become so-called "stupid." Parents take a grave responsibility upon themselves when they neglect the signs of defective eyesight. Let us examine your child's eyes and give you the glasses to remedy it.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"About a year ago my hands began to crack and peel. I tried many remedies, but they grew worse all the time.

At last they became so sore that it was impossible for me to do my housework. If I put my hands in water, I was in agony for hours; and if I tried to cook over the stove, the heat caused intense pain. I consulted a doctor, but his prescriptions were utterly useless. I gave him up and tried another, but without the least satisfaction. About six weeks ago I got my first relief when I purchased Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After using them for a week, I found to my great delight that my hands were beginning to feel much better, the deep cracks began to heal up and stop running, and to-day my hands are entirely well, the one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment being all that I used. ### Capturing Wolves Alive With Hand.

The little wolf tried to break back to the left; Abernethy headed it and rode almost over it; and it gave a wicked snap at his foot, cutting the boot. Then he wheeled and came to ward it again; it galloped back and just as it crossed the creek the greyhound made a rush, pinned it by the hind leg and threw it. There was a scuffle, then a yell from the greyhound as the wolf bit it. At the bite the hound let go and jumped back a few feet, and at the same moment Abernethy, who had ridden his horse right on them as they struggled, leaped off and sprang on top of the wolf. He held the reins of the horse with one hand and thrust the other, with the rapidity of a decision even greater than the rapidity of the wolf's snap, into the wolf's mouth, jamming his hand over the lower jaw and bending it down so that the wolf could not bite him. He had a stout glove on his hand, but this would have been of no use whatever had he not seized the animal just as he did; that is, behind the canines, while his hand pressed the lips against the teeth; with his knees he kept the wolf from using its fore paws to break the hold, until it gave up struggling. When he thus leaped on and captured this coyote it was entirely free, the dog having let go of it; and he was obliged to keep hold of the reins of his horse with one hand. I was not twenty yards distant at the time, and as I leaped off the horse he was sitting placidly on the live wolf, his hand between its jaws, the greyhound standing beside him, and his horse standing by as placid as he was. In a couple of minutes Fortescue and Lambert came up. It was as remarkable a feat as the kind as I have ever seen.—From "A Wolf Hunt in Oklahoma," by Theodore Roosevelt, in the November "Scribner's."

"The Lottery of Death."

The most singular and appalling of all true narratives of the Civil War is Lieutenant Stradling's story of "The Lottery of Death" in the November "McClure's." The Confederate government had determined upon the execution of two Federal captains in retaliation for the hanging as spies of two of their own captains caught by the Union troops. All the Federal captains, prisoners of war in Libby Prison, were compelled to draw lots to select two of their number to be hanged. The two fateful black beans were drawn by Captain Sawyer of the 1st New Jersey Cavalry, and Captain Flynn of the 51st Indiana Infantry, the first men to draw from the lottery of death. At a two hours' notice they were carted off to die. Lieutenant Stradling tells the story in graphic, unvarnished English as he had it from Captain Sawyer: how the doomed men were reprieved at the foot of the gallows-tree by the hard riding of the Bishop of Richmond, and the interference of Jefferson Davis; how Lincoln heard the story from Sawyer's wife, and at the end of a sleepless night devised a plan whereby the men were finally saved. Lincoln's plan was one of the most pitiless moves war ever forced from him. He notified the Confederate Cabinet that immediately upon the execution of Sawyer and Flynn he would retaliate by hanging General W. H. F. Lee, son of their great commander, and another Confederate officer. This threat frightened the Confederate Cabinet into abandoning their plan.

The Dethroning of Alcohol.

Another potent factor in the dethroning of alcohol has been the spirit of scientific research of recent years. In the great laboratories scientists have been carefully studying the effects of

IT DRAWS HARD

On a woman's vitality to do work for which she is untrained, and we wonder how some of the women of our land live through a single season of pleasure or dissipation.

They will say with tears in their eyes, when they mention the subject at all, "It is a hard pull," that with pain, weakness and weariness they are "almost dragged out."

Many, in this condition, resort to alcoholic stimulants and "invigorants," the after effects of which are very injurious.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, forty years ago found that women were being mistreated through ignorance or carelessness and determined to devote his life and energies to their relief.

Having found the cause of their suffering, he next sought for the means of relief, and found in Nature's Laboratory the earth, certain of which had remarkable and valuable medicinal virtues for the cure of these ailments.

Using chemically pure glycerine of proper strength instead of alcohol, he prepared extracts of these, and the result was so satisfactory that the combination became his "Favorite Prescription." The roots used are: Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root, and Golden Seal root. The world knows it as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which has the wonderful and unparalleled record of a half-million of cures in the last forty years.

Write to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for advice, given without charge.

"I am glad to be able to testify as to the merits of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the many ills that women suffer with," writes Dr. George A. Mitchell, President Young Ladies Christian Endeavor Society, 43 Columbia Street, E. Detroit, Mich. "After many years of suffering and pain, I took your medicine, and in a short time began to feel stronger, became more regular, and didn't have the bearing-down pains which had been my lot for so long. Shall never cease to be very grateful that it was brought to my notice, because no pains, and feel much stronger generally."

Impoverished Soil

Impoverished soil, like impoverished blood, needs a proper fertilizer. A chemist by analyzing the soil can tell you what fertilizer to use for different products.

If your blood is impoverished your doctor will tell you what you need to fertilize it and give it the rich, red corpuscles that are lacking in it. It may be you need a tonic, but more likely you need a concentrated fat food, and fat is the element lacking in your system.

There is no fat food that is so easily digested and assimilated as

RICHEST OF APPLE CROPS.

Leaving Nearly $100,000 in the County.

When a correspondent recently reported to the "Compiler," as published, that the apple crop left $100,000 in the county he was very close to the mark, though he did not enter into any details of how he reached the total sum. In a recent talk with one of the best posted men on the apple crop he gave a number of figures which he assured us was very conservative. He said he was positive 10,000 barrels were shipped from Biglerville, perhaps 12,000. That 5,000 barrels were shipped from Aspers and Bendersville Station, 1,000 barrels from Sunnyside. The quantity sent from Gardner's Station he would not estimate as he said great quantities had been shipped from there loose in cars. That there was a big market in the city of selling loose apples from car to the apple peddlers. To say 15,000 barrels were shipped along G. & H. R. R. from Biglerville northward was putting it light.

Then he ran over points along the Western Maryland, naming shipments from McKnightstown region, Cash-town, Ortauna, Fairfield, and along route this side of the mountain and 15,000 barrels was a very conservative estimate of apples shipped by all buyers. 30,000 barrels as lowest and possible 40,000 barrels would give from $50,000 to $65,000 paid for apples.

In answer to question as to cost to get apples out of the county, the answer came that for packing, hauling, freight and all the attending expenses one usually counted on $1 a barrel. Adding this to the amount paid the farmers for the apple crop would give a grand total close to the $100,000 mark. It is considered the richest crop county has ever had. It is a crop constantly growing in size for many young orchards are not yet bearing.

Why Birds Go South.

"I once asked a confirmed old bachelor," says Mr. Craig S. Thoms in the "New Idea Woman's Magazine" for Nov., "why he did not marry, to which he replied, 'I have gotten over wanting to.' Is there a tide in the affairs of birds for a certain period in the autumn which draws them southward? And if the fall be pleasant, as was that of 1904, and they remain longer than usual, does this tide of inclination pass away and leave them stranded with us for the winter? Or, when they have stayed during a long, pleasant autumn, do they reason like the old man who said that it would not pay for him to get false teeth now, that his time was too short?"

"It is usually thought that the determining factor in the birds' going or staying is not that of cold, but of food; and for this there is doubtless considerable evidence. Yet, for the evidence to be conclusive, it would need to be shown that the food is lacking when they go forth and leave us, as well as present when they stay throughout the year.

"In the autumn of 1904, in the groves which skirt the rivers in South Dakota, wild grapes were unusually abundant. The autumn was so long and dry that they cured upon the vines, and were sweet, somewhat juicy and very palatable during the entire winter. In these groves I found companies of Wilson's bluebirds in early January, when the mercury stood between eight and ten degrees below zero. The flickers also were numerous, though it is not uncommon for a few of them to winter in the North."

In opposition to this fact, Mr. Thoms notes that although every winter a goodly supply of berries, seeds, buds, etc., remains on the bushes, yet the robins, who eat these, constantly migrate. Mr. Thoms comes to the conclusion, therefore, that "there is a migrating instinct which has its season, just as there is a mating instinct, which has its season, and if, owing to pleasant conditions, that season passes without the birds being moved to go South, they do not go at all."

Where You're Most Likely to be Hurt

Twelve per cent. of all the accidents to people in cities happen on the streets. Statistics show that the average citizen, if he should meet with one hundred serious mishaps on his walks abroad, would slip on the ice, and fall down under other circumstances, sixty-eight times; he would get hurt ten times in boarding or dismounting from cars; he would be knocked down or otherwise injured, by horses and wagons six times; he would be bitten by dogs four times, and he would step disastrously upon banana peels twice. The remaining mishaps would be miscellaneous, and might include one or two collisions with motor cars, which have taken the place of bicycles as perils to the pedestrian.—"Pearson's Magazine" for November.

CHOICEST CHRYSANTHEMUMS

CASHTOWN GROWS QUANTITIES OF THESE FLOWERS

The Display There is one of the Greatest Signs of the Season.

There is one little town in the county that no other place or spot can hold a candle to when it comes to growing beautiful chrysanthemums. For fine, rich, rare, big, gorgeous, exquisite chrysanthemums Cashtown is entitled to the first place, to tell the truth no other place in county is known where they are grown with such profusion or success as in that town. They don't grow them to sell but for their own delight, for love of having the big rich beautiful flowers around them.

Indeed the credit for these flowers belongs to the ladies of Cashtown, who seem to vie with one another in having the largest and finest display. A ride or walk through Cashtown at the present time is a treat to every one who has the slightest feeling appealed to by flowers.

The lady with the largest collection in Cashtown is Miss Emma Schwartz. A talk with her is to have revealed the fact that it is a labor of love with her. What a gorgeous spectacle her chrysanthemum beds are. On the protected side of her residence are stalks six feet high topped with immense flowers of all species and colors, the inward and outward curls, the ostrich plumes and one is simply bewitched with the great bunches of white, cream, yellow, lavender, pink, red and other colors. It seems as if you cannot look enough at them.

Next door is found the beautiful collection of Mrs. H. L. Bream and her daughter Miss Faith. In a short walk will be seen the display of Mrs. Geo. Swartz, Mrs. Harry Bucher, Mrs. Clem Hartman, Mrs. Isaac Mickley, Miss Heiges, Mrs. Adam Deardorff, Mrs. Harvey Hartman and others.

What care and devotion these ladies give their rare flowers. The beds are built along the protected sides of their homes. A frame work is erected over and around the beds. On these on cold nights are hung covers of carpet, quilts, and the like. The colder the night the thicker the cover. During the warm sunshine of daytime, the gorgeous flowers lift upward their splendor to the sun. The chill of the late afternoon, between 4 and 5 o'clock will find the ladies at work in their gardens putting the covers over their chrysanthemums.

These ladies know how to develop the chrysanthemum to the fullest glory. From early spring time they watch the bushes to prevent the stalks running into branches, which they rapidly do. They clip off sprouts as they appear, leaving two or three of the strongest for the full display. Early buds are sacrificed. As a result stalks of one, two or three branches grow as high and higher than the ladies in attendance upon them and they reward the labor of love with gorgeous bloom. It is worth any one's time to make a special trip to Cashtown to see the chrysanthemums grown there.

There will be a display of chrysanthemums in the Cashtown Reformed church at an early date.

An English Author Wrote:

"No shade, no shine, no fruit, no flowers, no leaves.—November." Many Americans would add no freedom from catarrh, which is so aggravated during this month that it becomes constantly troublesome. There is abundant proof that catarrh is a constitutional disease. It is related to scrofula and consumption, being one of the wasting diseases. Hood's Sarsaparilla has shown that what is capable of eradicating scrofula, completely cures catarrh, and taken in time prevents consumption. We cannot see how any sufferer can put off taking this medicine, in view of the widely published record of its radical and permanent cures. It is undoubtedly America's Greatest Medicine for America's Greatest Disease—Catarrh.

Asbestos Near Cold Springs.

Upton Baker has begun operations to develop the asbestos and white clay which was found recently on his father's farm at Aram, this county. The clay is of a superior quality and is in demand for the manufacture of bricks. The asbestos is of the highest quality and may be easily disposed of. Twelve workmen arrived from Pittsburgh, to begin the development of this valuable tract of land. Mr. Baker will superintend the work, as he is administrator of the farm. Mr. Baker has been an employee of the Geibor foundry, Waverly, Pa.

The find is considered one of the most valuable of its kind in this section in years and from all appearances will prove very profitable. The land has been used as a farm and its wealth was not known until about a month ago. Experts are of the opinion that there is a fortune in the minerals recently discovered there and the mining of it will be watched with much interest.

Candy Frolic.

The Walter Loyal Legion held one of their monthly meetings, Saturday evening Oct. 21st at "Guernsey Farm" the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Griesl. The yard, porch and spacious hall were lighted with large jack-o'-lanterns, the effect of which was most startling. They were a credit to the artists.

The meeting was called to order by the President Wallace F. Peters, Miss Julia K. Longsdorff acted as secretary for the evening. After the minutes, business and report of departments the meeting adjourned; as the program committee had arranged a Hallow'een celebration instead of the regular literary program which deviation was much enjoyed as "variety is the spice of life."

Much merriment was caused by the gentlemen present, who were required to bite at apples which swung by strings from a pole; they were not allowed to use their hands: the one getting the first bite was allowed first choice of the ladies present to assist him in the "old fashioned candy pull" which followed, second bite second choice and so on.

After each had succeeded in getting a "bite and a lady" all were invited to the large kitchen where the balance of the evening was spent in "pulling and eating." The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Z. J. Peters.

Did America People the Earth.

The November "Cosmopolitan" contains an unusual number of good articles, and is one of the best numbers ever issued by that magazine. One of the most interesting articles deals with the results of the Jesup Ethnological Expedition. These results will make a big sensation for they seem to indicate that the Asiatic peoples, from whom the entire human race is supposed to be descended, did not originate there, but actually came from this continent. Daniel T. Pierce gives an excellent review of the subject in an illustrated paper entitled, "Did America People the World?"

Luther Burbank, the California plant-wizard, has, to be sure, been much written about of late, but for clear understanding of what he is doing and how he is doing it, the best thing we have seen is Garret P. Serviss' beautifully illustrated article on "Transforming the World of Plants," in same number.

Explained.

An old Scotch lady who had no relish for modern church music was expressing her dislike of the singing of an anthem in her own church one day, when a neighbor said: "Why, that is a very old anthem! David sang that anthem to Saul." To this the old lady replied: "Well, well! I now for the first time understand why Saul threw his javelin at David when the lad sang for him."

THE PENRHYN DIVERS

FEATS OF THESE RECKLESS PACIFIC OCEAN ISLANDERS.

They Are About the Most Daring of All Underwater Workers—Paralytic, Sharks and Sting Ray Are Among the Dangers They Brave.

Three native divers famous for their deep water feats came out in a pearl-ship's boat with us one afternoon and gave a fine exhibition, says a writer in the London Graphic. The bed over which we halted was about ninety feet under the surface. Our three divers stripped to a "pareo" apiece, and then, squatting down on the gunwale of the boat, with their hands hanging over their knees, appeared to meditate. They were "taking their wind," the white steersman informed me.

After about five minutes of perfect stillness they suddenly got up and dived off the thwart. The rest of us fidgeted up and down the tiny deck, talked, speculated and passed away the time for what seemed an extraordinarily long period. No one, unfortunately, had brought a watch, but the traders and schooner captains all agree in saying that the Penrhyn diver can stay under water for full three minutes. At last, one after another, the dark heads popped up again, and the divers, each carrying a shell or two, swam back to the boat, got on board and presented their catch to me with the ease, grace and high bred courtesy that are the birthright of all Pacific islanders.

As a general rule, the divers carry baskets and fill them before coming up. Each man opens his own catch at once and hunts through the shells for pearls. Usually he does not find any. Now and then he gets a small gray pearl or a decent white one or a big, irregular "baroque" pearl of the "new art" variety, and once in a month of Sundays he is rewarded by a large, gleaming gem worth several hundred pounds, for which he will probably get £20 or £30.

Diving dresses are sometimes used in Penrhyn, but in such an irregular and risky manner that they are really more dangerous than the ordinary method. The suit is nothing but a helmet and jumper. No boots are worn, no clothing whatever on the legs, and there are no weights to preserve the diver's balance. It sometimes happens, though wonderfully seldom, that the diver trips, falls and turns upside down, the heavy helmet keeping him head downward until the air all rushes out under the jumper, and he is miserably suffocated. The air pump above is often carelessly worked, in any case, and there is no recognized system of signals except the jerks that mean "Pull up."

"They're the most reckless devils on the face of the ocean," said a local trader. "Once let a man strike a good bed of shell, and he won't leave it. He'll stick down there all day, grubbing away in twenty fathoms or more till he feels paralysis coming on!"

"Paralysis?"

"Yes—they get it, lots of 'em. If you was to go down in twenty fathoms—they can do five and twenty, but anything over is touch and go—and stay 'alf the day, you'd come up looking like anything and not able to move. That's the way it catches them, and then they must get some one to come and rub them with sea water 'till it dries long, and maybe they dies, and maybe they're all right by morning. So 'em down they goes again, just the same as ever. Sometimes a man'll be pulled up dead at the end of the day. How does that happen? Well, I allow it's because he's been working at a big depth all day and feels all right, and then, do you see, he'll find something a bit extra below of him, in a boiler like, and down he'll go after it, and the extra fathom or two does the trick.

"Sharks? Well, I've seen you popping at them from the deck of the Duchess, so you know as well as I do how many there are. Didn't it them even when the fin was up? That's because you 'aven't greased your bullet. I suppose, you want to, if the water isn't to turn it aside. But about the divers? Oh, they don't mind sharks, none of them, when they've got the dress on. Sharks is easy scared. You've only got to pull up your flippers a bit, and the air bubbles out and frightens them to bits. If you meet a big sting ray it'll run his spine into you and spoil the dress, so's the water comes in, and maybe it'll stick the diver too. And the big devilfish is nasty. He'll hold you down on a rock, but you can use your knife on him. The kara manna is the worst. The divers don't like him. He's not as big as a shark, but he's downright wicked, and he's a mouth on him as big as his body. If an on-o-o-o is along 'till bite an arm or leg off the man anyway and eat 'im outright. It's big enough to do it. Swardfish? Well, they don't often come into the lagoon; it's the fishing canoes outside they'll go for. Yes, they'll run a canoe with a man through at a blow easy enough, but they don't often do it.

"About the diving? Well, I think the naked diving is very near as safe as the machine, taking all things. Worst of it is, if a kara manna or an on-o-o-o is along, the diver can't wait his time till it goes. No, he doesn't stab it, not inside the lagoon, because there's too many of them there, and the boat would bring a whole pack about. He gets under a ledge of rock and hopes it'll go away before his wind goes out. If he don't, he gets out."

In most cases 'tis the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys.

Charles Bierbach, stone contractor, living at 2625 Chestnut St., Erie, Pa., says: "For two years I had kidney trouble, and there was such a severe pain through my joints and limbs that I could not stoop or straighten up without great pain, had difficulty in getting about and was unable to rest at night, arising in the morning tired and worn out. The kidney secretions were irregular and deposited a heavy sediment. Doctors treated me for rheumatism, but failed to help me. I lost all confidence in medicine, but Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me so quickly and so thoroughly that I gladly made a statement to that effect for publication. This was in 1898, and during the six years which have elapsed I have never known Doan's Kidney Pills to fail."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Bierbach will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-McLarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

THE TOWER OF BABEL.

History Leaves No Data by Which to Estimate Its Height.

The exact date of the building of "Nimrod's Pally," as the Chaldeans say in alluding to the Scriptural tower of Babel (the Armenians speak of it as the Tower of the Confusion of Tongues), or the height to which it penetrated the rarefied atmosphere of the oriental plains will perhaps never be known. The date of the laying of the foundation of the famous structure is usually set at 2217 years before Christ, or in the year of the flood, 101.

The expression of the sacred historian that its top was to "reach unto heaven" is now generally set down as a strong Hebrew phrase denoting a very lofty tower, but not necessarily meaning one that would reach to the abiding place of the Lord and his hosts. Proof that this is probable may be found in several places in holy writ. The walls of the cities of Canaan are described by Moses in similar phraseology. The present one by him returned and reported that the cities of that country were great and were "walled up to heaven." See Deuteronomy 1, 28; Ex. 1. There is a Jewish legend in the Talmud which tells us that God did not permit a trip to the building of the tower until after it had reached a height of 1000 fathoms, which is equal to nearly twelve English miles.

The sacred historians have not in a single instance left data upon which we can base a calculation of its exact height and general dimensions, and it is because of this omission that the imaginative orientals and other ancient writers have given such fabulous and extravagant traditions concerning it. Even St. Jerome alleges from the testimony of eyewitnesses who claim to have seen and examined the ruins of the skyscraping shaft that in his day (born 345 A. D.) it was over four miles high. While considering these untenable notions it may not be out of place to mention that other fanciful writers make its height range all the way from a single furlong to 5,000 miles in height. See Lawson's Bible Cyclopedia, volume 1, page 259.

The Shadow.

When the forest haunting hermit Thoreau lay on his deathbed, a Calvinistic friend called to make inquiry regarding his soul. "Hear," he said anxiously, "have you made your peace with God?" "John," replied the dying naturalist in a whisper, "I didn't know that God and myself had quarreled."

The Shadow.

When a man's sorrows and disquietudes summed up at the end of his life it would generally be found that he had suffered more from the apprehension of such evils as never happened to him than from those evils which had really befallen him.

At the Club.

"Carry any life insurance?" "Yes, $10,000 in favor of my wife."

Do It To-day.—The time-worn in junction, "Never put off 'til to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. Buehler's German Syrup, which has been in use for over 25 years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.
